What's New in the?

This is an indexing plug-in for Google Desktop Search. IndexSWF Pro can be used with Google Desktop Search to add thumbnails and other information to flash movies (SWF and FLV) and flash video (FLV) in Windows Explorer and/or Google Desktop Search. With this plugin you can easily find your flash movies and flash video files on your hard drive. You can use the Information displayed for flash movies (SWF and FLV) and flash video (FLV). You can see in the above images that the plugin is extremely easy to install and works with flash files. By pressing the OK button, Google Desktop Search will be able to find flash movie files (SWF) and flash video (FLV) on your hard drive and display thumbnails for them. You can see that the plugin is creating thumbnails for flash movies and flash video (FLV) files. This is done with the Extractor SWF Thumbnail plug-in (which is available for download from this same web page) installed on your hard drive. IndexSWF Pro plugin is based on the Auto-indexing plug-in, which is included in Google Desktop Search 1.8.1 (64-bit) and Auto-indexing plug-in, which is included in Google Desktop Search 1.8. Installation instructions:

- Download the zip file and extract the files to a directory where you would like to install the plugin.
- Install the plugin by double-clicking the exe file.
- You should now see the IndexSWF Pro plugin in the Google Desktop Search window.

How to use:

- Go to Tools, Options and then Google Desktop Search, Indexing Settings.
- Scroll down and add IndexSWF Pro plugin to the list.
- You should now see IndexSWF Pro in the window when you start Google Desktop Search.
- You can select and un-select the Plugin when starting Google Desktop Search.
