Police said the 31-year-old man was arrested and charged with domestic assault. The victim told police she felt threatened by the man. The two had been dating, but were not a couple. A judge set bail at $100,000 on Wednesday. The man has not been criminally charged, and the case is pending in court. A West Orange police spokesperson said the officer was placed on administrative leave pending the outcome of the investigation. In a statement Wednesday, West Orange police said "this situation is a difficult time for all parties involved. The members of the West Orange Police Department wish to assure the residents of West Orange that this type of situation is extremely rare. To ensure the highest level of transparency, the department is releasing this information at this time." The department said the
