A lot of guys are completely into having sex, but not one for masturbating. And that's a pretty big problem on a very large scale. But there's some guys out there who really enjoy having sex, and they happen to be very, very good at masturbating. I'm talking about extremely well-adjusted people who masturbate like pro athletes. The number one reason people don't masturbate or masturbate correctly is their lack of mastery over their sexual energy. This results in a great deal of sexual stress. A lot of this stress simply comes from the fact that they think orgasm means "on the way". But to a lot of people, orgasm means climax. So if they haven't trained their minds to better understand what sexual energy is, and use it properly, then they have a "climax" that's not really anything at all. On top of that, they usually have some kind of fantasy that they hold onto, but it doesn't allow them to really learn how to masturbate properly. So they keep masturbating in order to fantasize, and it's just a never-ending cycle. If you're looking for some reasons as to why you haven't masturbated in such a long time, stop right there. Sure, masturbation may seem like it's a little bit of a personal pleasure, but it's more than that. Practically everybody masturbates in one form or another every single day, but if we all learned to do it correctly, we'd have a lot less sexual stress, and our lives would be a lot more pleasurable. So, there's a lot of reasons you may not be masturbating now. You may not know how, you may fear if you're not "ready", or you may have a fantasy that your body doesn't want to indulge in. But the bottom line is that masturbation is a major topic in almost every spiritual tradition. Some guys don't masturbate because they think it's a selfish act. They don't understand how it makes them feel better emotionally, or even physically. And
